5 INTENSIVES THAT TRANSFORM
PERSONAL FACILITATION AND LEADERSHIP SKILLS

ENGAGEMENT AT THE NEXT LEVEL

The Prevention Leaders Cohort was created by leaders in the prevention field for leaders in the prevention field.

The Engagement Cohort for Prevention Leaders is an intensive skill-building experience offered by HueLife. It is designed specifically for leaders in the prevention workforce. The program will significantly improve facilitative leadership capabilities, deepen knowledge of various facilitation methods and provide a fun learning environment. Part of the intention is to build a learning community and a support system that will last long beyond the course intensives.

Angie Asa-Lovstad and Karie Terhark have over 25 years of combined experience leading community coalitions in the drug and alcohol prevention scope. They have worked together to lead a state-wide collaboration using tools that included members in every step of the process organically creating buy-in and sustainability.

The program is laid out over a five quarter period. Each quarter is comprised of six virtual sessions, with two sessions per month.

As you continue on your journey of learning and growth, be intentional, be strategic, and view each individual training as a stop along your transformation.
